

Kennedy Monsalvo

Recreational Instructor & Choreographer

Kennedy started dancing at the age of 3 and started to dance competitively at the age of 7. She trained in Cecchetti ballet, Jazz, Tap, Lyrical, Pointe, Acro and Modern. She competed in Ballet and Jazz, and she started to teach dance at the age of 17.

Kennedy attended an Eastwood Collegiate Institute in Kitchener where she graduated with a major in dance, drama, and music. She participated in the Ontario Secondary School Dancefest where she choreographed and performed a duet and after graduating she is now continuing her education at Brock University studying a bachelor's of physical education.

Throughout her dance career she danced with many artists and was in a production of Anne of Green Gables. She is a committed teacher who continues to mature her growth and abilities in order to educate her students.

